UNIVERSITY OF MUMBAI

Syllabus for the F.Y.B.Sc.

Program: B.Sc.

Course : Psychology

(Credit Based Semester and Grading System with effect from the academic year 2011–2012)

Preamble

Psychology is the scientific study of behaviour and mental processes. It is based on research and evidence gathered from observation, experimentation and measurement and differs from the 'pop psych' found in self-help books, graphology, numerology, astrology which also try to explain people's problems and aim to predict behaviour and offer solutions.

Psychologists focus on describing, understanding, explaining, predicting and modifying behaviour and mental processes as well as on helping people understand themselves and others, so that they bring about change and improve the quality of life for themselves as well as those around them.

Psychology is one of the fastest growing disciplines with developments in information technology, artificial intelligence, brain imaging, molecular biology and neuroscience making it even more multidisciplinary, challenging, and exciting, than ever before.

The two courses per semester have been designed keeping this in mind, so that students get a broad understanding of the vast scope of Psychology.

- ii. High attendance but no classroom participation = 2 marks
- iii. High Attendance with occasional classroom participation (asking questions and/or giving answers) = 3 marks
- iv. High Attendance with regular classroom participation = 4 marks
- v. High Attendance with effective classroom participation (interesting questions and good answers, good contributions) or making a PowerPoint or oral presentation on a sub-unit = 5 marks

Leadership qualities in organizing programmes/activities like –

1. Field trips
2. Film screening and discussion
3. Talk by guest speakers
4. Exhibition
5. Quiz or other competitions
6. Group guidance/awareness programmes
7. Skits or role plays on psychology-related units
8. Peer counselling or helping academically weaker students

Guidelines about conduct of Tutorials

The tutorials should be conducted in batches formed as per the University norms.

Tutorials may involve -

1. Experiments conducted on computer using the 'Live!Psych' CD that accompanies the Book for Study
2. Demonstrations and exercises on the units taught
3. Administration of some simple Psychological scales/ Personality questionnaires available online on the websites mentioned in the book for study or included in some other books like 'Comprehensive Stress Management' by Greenberg (2008, 10th edition), 'Psychology Applied to Modern Life: Adjustment in the 21st century' (Weiten, & Lloyd, 2006, 8th edition), 'Applied Industrial/ Organizational Psychology' (Aamodt, 2004), 'Training Instruments in HRD and OD' (Pareek, 2003)
4. Suitable statistical analysis of the scores obtained by students on the Psychological scales/ Personality questionnaires (Frequency distribution, Measures of central tendency – mean, median, mode, Measures of variability – range and SD, correlation coefficient, z scores).

Participation of student in the tutorial sessions should also be monitored to help in finalizing the marks for 'Active participation in class instructional deliveries'.
